HISTORY

Of Hall a Century Ago That Has Been Forgotten by Many.

Old Resident of Louisville Tells Story of Those Stirring Times.

One Time When Famous Sixty-ninth Regiment Disobeyed Orders.

THAT MASON-SLIDELL AFFAIR

Several days ago a group of Louisville Irishmen were discussing Gen. Nelson A. Miles' tribute to the gallant members of the famous Sixty-ninth Regiment of New York. The new members of the regiment and the veterans recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of these Irish soldiers starting for the front in the civil war. Gen. Miles is the first medal of honor soldier in the United States and is probably the highest authority in the military history of our country. Among other things he said to the assembled soldiers:

"You carry on your flag this motto, that the Sixty-ninth never disobeyed an order and never lost a flag. To my certain knowledge it helped to capture many. The corps captured something like thirty at Gettysburg, nearly a dozen at Antietam, more at Spottsylvania—in fact, the Irish Brigade captured more flags and more guns in that campaign of '64 than were captured by the rest of the Union army."

All accepted the tribute as merited until Jeremiah Kavanagh, a veteran Fenian, interrupted to say: "Had I been in New York on that occasion I might have contradicted Gen. Miles on one point. The members of the Sixty-ninth, through their Colonel, Michael Corcoran, did disobey an order." The younger members of the group gazed open-mouthed. It could not be possible that Mr. Kavanagh intended detracting from the merits and fame of this fighting Irish regiment. He soon set their fears at rest.

"Yes, they disobeyed an order," he said. "The Prince of Wales, who many years later became Edward VII., King of England, visited New York in 1860. The Adjutant General of New York ordered out the Sixty-ninth Regiment with other troops to act as an escort to the British Prince, Col. Corcoran, who was holding a clerical position in the New York Post-office, flatly refused to call out his Irish soldiers to honor a scion of the house of Guelf. The Adjutant General ordered him to be tried by court-martial for disobedience of orders. Other members of the regiment felt like Col. Corcoran, but the war broke out soon after and before the court-martial had concluded its work. There were some level heads in New York in those days, and one of them went to Horace Greeley, then in his prime as editor and political leader, told him to see that the court-martial was stopped, and Corcoran and his regiment would go to the front. Mr. Greeley telegraphed the Governor of New York, the court-martial was abandoned and within a week Col. Corcoran was marching down Broadway at the head of 1,300 Irishmen that were willing to die for the Stars and Stripes, but who were unwilling to appear on dress parade for the Prince of Wales. This is some history that Gen. Miles has forgotten or never knew."

"At that time I was in San Francisco," continued Mr. Kavanagh, "and when the telegraph brought the news of Corcoran's refusal to order out his regiment, there were enough of us there to collect a sum sufficient to buy and send him a solid gold medal three inches in diameter and one-fourth of an inch thick and appropriately inscribed. Corcoran was proud of that medal. It happened to be the secretary of the committee that collected the funds to buy that tribute of California gold, and I have now a steel engraved portrait of Col. Corcoran with that medal pinned on his breast."

Mr. Kavanagh also gave a brief account of the arrangements made in San Francisco for sending back to Ireland the remains of Terence Bellew MacManus, a Fenian patriot, who had been assassinated in that city. Mr. Kavanagh was secretary of the committee that accompanied the remains to Ireland. About that time the Mason-Sliddell matter was occupying the attention of nations on both sides of the ocean. Mr. Kavanagh actually saw the British troops embarking that were intended to aid the Confederacy against the Union. He was called upon to address a meeting of Irishmen who were American sympathizers at the Dublin Rotunda on the night of December 5, 1861. At that meeting The O'Donoghue presided. He was a grand-nephew of Daniel O'Connell. Resolutions were adopted opposing England's intervention between the warring sections of the American republic. On that night there were 5,000 people crowded into the Rotunda, and there were 10,000 who were unable to gain entrance, but stood outside to show that they were not in sympathy with England. Of the 5,000 men inside the hall there were 2,500 picked members of the Fenian Brotherhood who had orders to protect Mr. Kavanagh from arrest and to prevent any interference with his speech at all hazards. He was recognized as a Yankee Fenian. His presence in Dublin was unknown until he was introduced by Chairman O'Donoghue.

After the cheering that followed his introduction had subsided Mr. Kavanagh thanked those assembled for their cordial welcome and for the resolutions that had been adopted. Then he said slowly and impressively: "If England fires one hostile shot at the American flag it will sound the doom of the British empire. There are hundreds of thousands of men in America who do not want this civil war, but they would throw up their hats and rejoice to take a shot at the blood-stained flag of St. George."

These sentiments made Mr. Kavanagh the hero of the hour with the Irishmen of Dublin, but he was persona non grata to English police. He was an American citizen and was neither arrested or molested. Soon after he left Ireland on his return to America and landed in New York in the early part of January, 1862. On the very day he set foot in New York a set of American colors, the gift of California Irishmen, was presented to the members of the Sixty-ninth for valor on the field. The presentation speech was made by Hon. Richard O'Gorman, who afterward became Corporation Counsel in New York. The Collector of Customs for the port of New York also occupied a seat on the platform. After Mr. O'Gorman had finished the presentation speech Mr. Kavanagh was recognized by some of the New York Fenians and was compelled to address the assembled audience. He congratulated the members of the Sixty-ninth on their valor and expressed regret that they had not had a chance to fight for Ireland.

IRISH SONG

And Comedy Act Will Be Feature at Gayety Theater.

Frank and Kate Carleton, in a few minutes of Irish song and humor, will be the feature of the bill at the Gayety all of next week. Mr. and Mrs. Carleton have been seen and heard in Louisville before. They have a refined comedy act that catches the eye, the ear and the heart of Irish men and women. Their act was so well thought of in Brooklyn, N. Y., that they received the following letter from the head of the United Irish Societies of America:

"Mr. Frank Carleton, Broadway Gayety, Girls Company, Philadelphia, Pa.: While you were at one of our local theaters it was my privilege to see the beautiful and artistic act presented by Mrs. Carleton and yourself, in which you sang the delightful old melodies of Erin in such a magnificently impressive manner that my friends and I were compelled to see your act for the second time while you were in New York."

"We were all so delighted that the sad, sweet, rollicking music of Ireland was being rendered in a manner worthy of the minstrels of her sad but glorious past, that we determined to have a large delegation from our Irish societies see your splendid effort. Unfortunately your company left this vicinity before we could make the necessary arrangements. All my friends who were fortunate enough to see this act join me in stating that you have registered an artistic triumph and we hope you may find means to communicate with me prior to your visit so that we may have an opportunity of showing Mrs. Carleton and yourself just how highly we appreciate your efforts to uplift Irish character sketches. Personally I deeply regret having never met you and Mrs. Carleton, but hope to have that privilege soon. Yours very truly, Patrick J. Hyman, 487 Second street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

There will be three performances daily, one in the afternoon and two in the evening. The Carletons have an Irish act that will appeal to every Irishman in the three Falls cities.

SUCCESSORS TO AGE.

Daniel J. Moagher, an old and respected citizen of Frankfort, died at his home there last Sunday. He was eighty-eight years old and death resulted from the infirmities usually attendant upon old age. Mr. Moagher had amassed a competency through hard work and thrift and was well known to all of Frankfort's wealthiest citizens. He is survived by his wife and four sons, John Moagher, one of Louisville's license inspectors; M. J. Moagher, of Frankfort, a member of the Democratic Executive Committee for the Seventh Congressional district, and Dan Moagher, Jr., and Ed Moagher, of Frankfort. His funeral took place from the Church of the Good Shepherd on Monday morning.

POPE PIUS RECOVERS.

Pope Pius X., who had been indisposed for several days, was able to receive Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli and three visiting Bishops on Wednesday. The same day he announced that he was able to resume public audiences.

CROWDS

Witnessed Blessing of Cornerstone of New Parochial School.

Knights of St. John and Men's Societies Participate in Pageant.

Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue Presided at Impressive Exercises.

SERMON BY THE FATHER RUFF

The chief event of the past week in local Catholic circles was the blessing of the cornerstone of St. Vincent de Paul's new schoolhouse, Shelby and Oak streets, at 4 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. It was attended by all the solemn pomp and ceremony of the Catholic church, and was preceded by a splendid street procession of the Knights of St. John and men's societies of St. Vincent de Paul church. The Right Rev. Bishop had so far recovered from his recent indisposition that he was able to preside at the exercises.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the procession of acolytes and clergy left St. Vincent de Paul's rectory and wended its way to the site of the new school building. The Knights of St. John, with drawn swords, lined either side of the pathway. A canon bearer led the way. He was accompanied by acolytes and was followed by a cross bearer. Then came the members of the church choir singing hymns and fifty altar boys followed. Next came the clergy. Last of all walked the Bishop, accompanied by his Vicar General, the Very Rev. James P. Cronin.

After the cornerstone had been blessed and set in place Father Cronin, in a few words, happily congratulated the pastor and parish in the Bishop's name and in the name of himself and fellow clergymen. He expressed the hope that Almighty God would shower upon the pastor and people of St. Vincent de Paul parish bountiful blessings, so that the building might be completed at an early date. A more elaborate sermon in German was preached by the Rev. Father Charles R. Ruff, assistant pastor of St. Vincent de Paul church. He took his text from Matthew xxviii, 19-20. His address was delivered in German. He said in part:

"A Catholic school is a vast civic improvement for any neighborhood. Germantown being an example. The Catholic church from the beginning has watched over her schools, seminaries and universities like a mother. No education is complete without a religious training. In the Catholic school the child is not only taught religion, but it also practices it there. Besides Catholic schools keep pace with the public schools in secular training. However, to make a school a success parents must assist not only with money, but also by setting good examples at home."

When the clergy intoned the "Te Deum" the vast throng assembled joined in the chorus "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name." The following members of the clergy attended the exercises: Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Very Rev. James P. Cronin, Rev. Patrick Cronin, Rev. Dr. George W. Schubmann, Rev. William Gausepohl, Rev. John Bohlsen, Rev. S. J. Menas, Rev. Herman Jansen, Rev. James Assent, Rev. John Pfeiffer, Rev. H. J. Rothert, Rev. Thomas A. York, Rev. Seraphim Schlaag, O. M. C., Rev. Constantine Schaff, O. F. M., Rev. Richard Wurth, O. F. M., Rev. Ignatius Wilkens, O. F. M., Rev. C. R. Ruff and the Rev. A. J. Thome, pastor of the church and builder of the new school house.

The following members of St. Vincent de Paul parish constitute the school building committee: F. Joseph Herrmann, Chairman; John Walter, Secretary; Leopold Guenther, Henry Disselkemper, H. Voor, John Disselkemper, Joseph Nieman, Sr., Peter Geratle, John D. Blumhofer, Frederick Klumb, Anton Schweltes, Henry Brumleve, Henry Walter, Jr., John Hoefler and George Hoermann.

Father Thome, through the Kentucky Irish American, desires to express his thanks to all who participated in the magnificent parade preparatory to the blessing of the cornerstone of St. Vincent de Paul's new school.

The new school will be rushed to completion and will be one of the largest and best equipped school-houses in the city.

NEW ASSISTANT PASTOR.

The Rev. Father Secondo J. Menas has been appointed assistant at St. Patrick's church to succeed Rev. Father Lawrence Ford, recently made pastor of St. William's church. Father Menas was ordained about a year ago by the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue.

BUSY DAY FOR CHILDREN.

A class of eighty-five boys and girls, all about twelve years old, will receive their first holy communion at St. Vincent de Paul church at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow morning. Solemn high mass will be celebrated in honor of the occasion. At 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the same children will be enrolled in the Rosary and Scapular confraternities and Blessed Virgin's Sodality. The exercises will close with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

AT REST.

James P. Dillon, a Veteran Railway Employee, Is Dead.

James T. Dillon, an old and faithful employee of the Louisville Railway Company, died at his home, 2641 Hank street, on Monday. He had been ill several weeks and death was not unexpected. Mr. Dillon was born in Ireland sixty-eight years ago, but had made Louisville his home since he was eighteen years old. He was a veteran of the civil war, was wounded at Gettysburg, and at the close of the war he returned to Louisville and conducted a pool and billiard room at the Louisville Hotel. Twenty years ago he entered the service of the Louisville Railway Company as a conductor. Two years later he was made an inspector, a position he held up to the time of his death. The deceased was a member of George H. Thomas Post, G. A. R.

Mr. Dillon is survived by his wife, Mrs. Barrett Dillon, two daughters, Mrs. James McElliot and Miss Adelaide Louise Dillon, and three sons, John Dillon, of Buffalo; James Dillon, of Dallas, Texas, and Frank Dillon, of Louisville. Besides he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Jordan Neary, of New York, and a brother, John Dillon, owner of a plantation in South America. The deceased was of a cheery disposition and had a pleasant greeting for all. He was held in high esteem by his superiors and fellow workmen. His funeral took place from the Church of Our Lady, Portland, on Wednesday, and was attended by a host of his old time friends and associates.

MEDAL AND ROSARY

Additional Privilege For Those Who Desire Substitute.

The Apostolate of the Rosary is authority for the statement that many are taking advantage of the privilege of substituting the medal for one or several of the scapulars. They have been regularly invested in the cloth scapulars. The medal may be worn about the neck or carried in the pocket or in any becoming manner about the person. Those who wish may attach the medal to their Rosaries.

The faithful are invited through the columns of the Kentucky Irish American to consider becoming Rosarians, thereby taking advantage of the extraordinary indulgence of 100 years and 100 Lent for carrying the beads. To these beads which they devoutly carry they can attach the scapular medal. The saintly Father Plus Massi, S. J., who died recently, figured out that Rosarians by the private recitation of the five decades on beads blessed by a Dominican, or a priest blessing, can gain the seemingly incredible indulgence of 485 years and fifty days.

RECENT DEATHS.

ALL READY.

Big Production Promised For Each of Mackin's Choral Shows.

"The Campus" Promises to Be Best Amateur Show in Louisville.

Realistic Prize Fight Scene Will Win Praises From the Public.

COLLEGE BOYS AND FAIR CO-EDS

Everything is in readiness for the performance of "The Campus" at the Mary Anderson Theater next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings and Saturday matinee. It will have the greatest cast and largest chorus ever seen at an amateur production in Louisville. The scenery will be appropriate and the costumes tasteful and pretty. Wednesday night will be known as "Catholic Women's Club night."

"The Campus" is another musical comedy with words and music by Aulyn Kanston, composer of "The Dreamers," "A Mile From Town," "Back to Town" and "Among the Stars." It will be produced by Mackin's Choral Club. "The Campus" deals with college life and its ensembles are filled with sweet girl graduates and stalwart rah-rah boys. Suffice it to say that there is a love story in the plot and that the climax occurs when the college champion knocks out a top notch professional pugilist in a regulation prizefight. More than 100 people will be on the stage for this event. All the necessary attributes, such as managers, referees, timekeepers, recorders, etc., will be in evidence. Those who have never seen a prizefight will have an opportunity of seeing the next best thing in "The Campus."

Miss Ahble Chester, who has heretofore played soubrette roles with Mackin's Choral Club, is to be the prima donna this year. Her piquant beauty and vivacious manner will make her a new type of leading lady. Miss Lanna Long, a young lady with a wonderful soprano voice, will be heard to advantage as the College Widow. Miss Bertha Cohn, the pretty and talented daughter of Col. Hermann Cohn, of the Anzeiger, will be one of the new stars. As Betty from Hardtown she will have great opportunities. Miss Cohn made a hit not long ago in the carnival "Romance and Flowers."

The male members of the cast include Beany, the boy from Boston, impersonated by Louis J. Kieffer; Patrick G. King, the fair co-ed; Thomas D. Cline, as Squab, the college bird, and George Kieffer as Huhlahalo, the rah-rah boy.

The opening of the second act will be a great scenic production. The boys will appear in full dress and the girls in graduation gowns. A unique feature of the prizefight scene will be the advent of college boys wearing the respective colors of the University of Louisville, Manual, K. M. I. and St. Xavier's College and University School. The various groups will sing the songs and give the yell peculiar to these schools.

The songs and dances include the following: Opening chorus and "Clementine," George Kieffer and full chorus; "Jack," Mr. Cline and chorus; "The Maid With the Dainty Duds," Miss Cohn and chorus; "When We Were Kids," Miss Long, Mr. Kanston and chorus; "Watch That Little Dreamer," Miss Chester, Mr. Cline, Mr. Kanston and chorus; cotillion and drinking song, "A Sip of Wine," Miss Long and chorus. The incidental dance will be given by Miss Mary Louise Michot and Mr. Kanston. Other songs will be "I Can't Find Out," Miss Cohn and Mr. Kanston; "Don't Blame That On Me," Mr. King and chorus; "On a Summer Night," Miss Long and chorus; "That's When a Fellow's in Love," Mr. Cline and Miss Chester; "I'd Like to Be the Prima Donna," Miss Chester and men's chorus; "Paralyzed," Mr. Kanston and chorus.

The chorus is made up as follows: Sweet Girl Graduates—Alvina Archer, Rose Gans, Gertrude Howe, Lida Hill, Beale Knox, Johanna Kraft, Elsie Mayer, Virgie Tierney, Emma Hindner, Julia Kalsler, Alvina Kahlelo, Mary Leonard, Ruby Lyons, Josephine Lewis, Mattie Miller, Helen Wilhelm, Freda Doerger, Esther Doerger, Kathryn Feeney, Estelle Glenn, Bertha Miller, Marie Michot, Hettie Mills and Mamie Siebel.

Seniors, James Cassin, Will Cassin, Tom Duddy, Oswald Georges, John Gruesser, John Meisner, Earl Leilly, William Schall and John Seully.

PRECIOUS GIFT.

Rev. Charles F. Kavanagh, who had filled the responsible position of secretary to the late Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, for five years, was presented by the Archbishops just prior to his demise with what he said was the dearest possession he had in the world, a small silver crucifix which he had brought from Ireland as a boy. Father Kavanagh was born in St. Francis Xavier's parish, Philadelphia.

ANNIVERSARY

Of Founding of Catholic Knights Is Fittingly Observed.

The Catholic Knights of America in Hamilton county, Ohio, celebrated the thirty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the order by attending solemn high mass and receiving holy communion at St. Clement's church, St. Bernard, a suburb of Cincinnati, last Sunday morning. After the mass breakfast was served by the ladies of the parish. Later in the forenoon the visiting Knights were shown various parts of Hamilton county in automobile.

At 2:30 o'clock the Knights attended solemn vespers and heard a sermon from Father Schell, the pastor. After vespers a reunion was held in the school hall. B. Neteler called the meeting to order and then handed the gavel to Vincent Beckman, who presided the remainder of the afternoon. The first speaker was Dr. Felix Gaudin, of New Orleans, Supreme President of the order. He said that in thirty-four years the order had paid $17,000,000 to 10,000 families and that it was seven years ahead of other fraternal organizations, as it had adopted the National Fraternal Congress rate.

Others who made addresses were Gen. Michael Reicher, of Louisville, and his staff from the Infantry Rank, including William Meahan, Eugene McCarthy, Charles Hill and Joseph McGinn, Supreme Trustee Michael Quinn, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Judge J. C. Romer, of Celina, Ohio, also gave their views on matters of importance to the order.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock Dr. Gaudin and other visiting Knights were entertained with a banquet at the Gibson House. Cincinnati Knights and their ladies were the hosts. Covers were laid for 100, and Joseph Berling presided as toastmaster. The Louisville visitors returned home loud in their praises of the treatment accorded them in the Queen City.

GREAT MISSION

By Eloquent Jesuits at St. Mary Magdalen's Church.

Two fathers of the Jesuit order will open a mission at St. Mary Magdalen church, Brook street, near College, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock mass. The missionaries are the Rev. Fathers Albert A. Dierkes and Michael J. Leary. The mission will continue during the entire week, including Ascension day, and close at 8 o'clock on Sunday evening, May 28. There will be special instructions for children from the age of seven to seventeen years at 3 o'clock tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday. The complete order of exercises will be announced at the late mass tomorrow.

The time of a mission is a season of grace and salvation. It is a time when men who have been trained to the work by long years of study and prayer come to a parish in order to recall the people to a better sense of their relationship with God. During this time the people are expected to make the question of the salvation of their souls of the highest importance. They are also expected to resolve to attend the mission as often as possible, to make a good confession and holy communion, and to try to bring at least one negligent Catholic to the exercises. The pastor, Rev. Father William Gausepohl, invites the general public to attend as often as possible.

OLDEST BISHOP

In United States Is Head of the Kansas City Diocese.

The oldest living Bishop in the United States is the Right Rev. John J. Hogan, head of the diocese of Kansas City. During the second week of this month he celebrated the eighty-first anniversary of his birth. He has been a Bishop for forty-two years. Bishop Hogan and Cardinal Gibbons are the only members of the American episcopacy who were present at the last Vatican Council. In 1868 Bishop Hogan was appointed Bishop of St. Joseph, Mo. His life has been an active one. John J. Hogan was born in the County Limerick, Ireland, in 1830. He came to America in 1849. His collegiate education had been completed in Ireland and four years after his arrival in America he was ordained priest. He labored in various parts of Missouri until 1868, when on September 13 he was consecrated as Bishop of St. Joseph. Twelve years later he was transferred to the more important see of Kansas City.

FATHER LEO HONORED.

It is with great pleasure that the Louisville friends of the Very Rev. Father Leo Gruehler, O. M. C., Provincial of the Black Franciscans, have been made one of the Counsellors of the Right Rev. Patrick Ludden, Bishop of Syracuse, N. Y. Father Leo will fill the post with dignity and zeal.

FINALE.

Fight Over Lords' Veto Bill Ends When Commons Makes Decision.

Liberals Defeat Tories by More Than One Hundred Majority.

Debate on Lord Lansdowne's Bill Renewed But Lacks Enthusiasm.

PROSPECTS FOR HOME RULE

Slowly but surely the members of the House of Lords are being overwhelmed, and within a short time the upper house of Parliament as now constituted will be but a memory. The fight in the House of Commons over the Lords' veto bill was renewed on Monday night, when an amendment to reject the whole bill was defeated by a vote of 362 to 241. The bill was then passed to its third reading by the same majority. This ends the fight in that quarter. When the vote was announced several members of the Liberal party shouted at the Unionists: "Now toe the line and take it like men." It is expected that the bill will go to the House of Lords at an early date.

On the same night debate was renewed in the House of Lords on the second reading of Lord Lansdowne's bill for the reconstitution of the House of Lords. Speeches supporting the bill lacked enthusiasm. Lord Morley, spokesman for the government, insisted that the passage of the veto bill must precede any settlement or compromise with respect to the upper chamber. He threw out the suggestion that in any reconstruction of the Lords a number of hereditary peers would be restricted to 100. This is regarded as foreshadowing the Government's purpose when the reform of the Lords comes before it.

Lord Lansdowne's scheme for the reform of the House of Lords has not won a single Liberal and has made the Liberals now more confident and aggressive than ever. The Lords have resolved to accept the veto bill on its second reading. The peers will postpone the subsequent stages until after the coronation and then will begin an attempt to cajole the Liberals into a compromise of some kind. The Liberals will be asked to drop the veto bill and accept a new and reformed House of Lords as a substitute. This suggestion has already been dismissed by the Liberals. Then the Lords will propose the dropping of home rule from the scope of the veto bill. This suggestion has been rejected with equal emphasis. All their suggestions having been rejected, the Lords will finally accept the veto bill in its present shape, and then will come the introduction and fight over the home rule bill.

From all indications the bill will be passed through the House of Commons by next summer. If it is rejected by the Lords a fierce agitation will open in the country, and some persons suppose that with the veto gone, the Lords may consent to some compromise which will relieve the Liberals and Irish from the necessity of passing a home rule bill the second and third time and waiting another year before it becomes a law.

It is expected that the passage of a home rule bill will do much toward uniting the English and Irish masses. It will mean the opening of a new era of international amity, the effects of which will spread far beyond the frontier of England and Ireland, and indeed is expected to pass beyond even the wider limits of the British empire. Yet this is only a dream of peace to come. Even should the Irish be given home rule tomorrow, even though they would forgive the British for wrongs of the past, they can not forget the glorious history of Ireland and the sacrifices and struggles of her children for civil and religious liberty throughout the last ten centuries.

ARTHUR—KENNEDY.

Miss Leona Arthur and Vaace Kennedy, well known people of the West End, will be united in marriage at St. Charles Borromeo church on the afternoon of June 1. The groom holds a responsible position with the National Tobacco Company and is a son of William Kennedy. The bride is a most charming and cultured young lady. The maids of honor will be Misses Maggie Martin and Lucille Burns. Joseph N. Higgins and Henry Fleeces will support the groom through the ordeal. After a brief honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will make their home in Parkland.

FAVORS LABOR.

Union labor never won a mightier victory than that of Monday, when the Supreme Court of the United States set aside the sentence of imprisonment against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, President, Vice President and Secretary respectively of the American Federation of Labor, who had been sentenced to jail for contempt of court. The decision of the Supreme Court appears to be the end of the labor war between the American Federation of Labor and the Bucks Stove and Range Company. The highest judicial tribunal in the land has left with the lower court the right to reopen the contempt proceedings. It is hardly probable that this grant of power will be accepted. In the opinion of the court the proceeding brought against the officers of the labor organization was for civil contempt, which could be punished only by a fine. The sentence of the lower court to imprisonment was the penalty for contempt, and in the premises therefore it was not a legal punishment. The decision is a sad blow to Socialism. The American Socialists have been contending that there was no chance for labor unions to get justice from any judicial tribunal in the land. The decision rendered Monday takes away their last weapon.

It is a victory for organized labor, but it gives labor unions no license to disobey the courts. The wording of the decision is so plain that he who runs may read.

THINGS HAVE CHANGED.

The Associated Press announces that tomorrow in all Anglican churches in Canada will be read a pastoral letter signed by Archbishop Matheson, of Winnipeg, Primate of all Canada, and Archbishop Hamilton, of Ottawa, Metropolitan of the ecclesiastical province of Canada, on the question of mixed marriages. The letter will deprecate such marriages, but says when these marriages are once performed they are indissoluble by the Church of Rome. The disbeliever of the Anglican church in divorce is also brought out, and the clergy are prohibited from remarrying divorced persons during the life of either person to the first marriage.

The Anglicans are moving Rome-ward faster than they know. The Church of Rome has always opposed mixed marriages and divorce. The founder of the Anglican church, Henry VIII., also founded the belated offense of divorce. The Anglicans of today are realizing the divorce court as an evil.

BLOW AT TRUSTS.

The Supreme Court of the United States hit the trusts a hard blow Monday when it decided in favor of the Government and against the Standard Oil Company. It was a decision anxiously awaited by the corporations and by the people. The Supreme Court holds that the Standard Oil Company is a corporation in restraint of trade; that this giant corporation must be dissolved within six months. At the same time the court holds that corporations whose contracts are not "unreasonably restrictive of competition" are not affected. It also threw out the suggestion that other great corporations whose acts may be called into question will be dealt with according to the merits of their particular cases. To make the matter positive the court was unanimous as to the main features of the decision, Judge Harlan only dissenting as to a limitation of the application of the Sherman anti-trust law.

This is a hard blow to one of the largest corporations of the world. None doubt the wisdom of the decision, yet its announcement has done wonders toward restoring confidence in our American courts.

GUARD YOUR CHILDREN.

Summer is coming; the vacation season is fast approaching and children will soon be relieved from troublesome books and hot and often ill-ventilated rooms. Hence it is one more the duty of the Kentucky Irish American to warn parents not to give their children a free rein during the summer months. Know where your children are. Know who their companions are. Year after year boys venture to the river, to ponds and to creeks only to be drowned. Then the parents have only one excuse: "I did not know he was going there." It is sad but true.

TAKING HUNT'S PLACE.

The Baptist World is particularly virulent in its attacks on Catholics this week. The Rev. Henry Alfred Porter, D. D., pastor of the Fourth and Walnut streets Baptist church, which by the way is located at Third and St. Catherine streets, seems to be trying to take the place of Rev. M. P. Hunt. He has one particular story about a boy in Bohemia that he has told over and over, but he never tells it twice the same way.

PEACE REIGNS.

According to the latest telegraphic advices the dove of peace is hovering over Mexico, and it is believed that a permanent armistice between the Federalists and Insurrectos will be reached. President Diaz and Vice President Carral will resign prior to June 1. Minister de la Barra will assume the Presidency, with Francisco I. Madero as his chief advisor. A new President will be elected within six months. The United States will not have to interfere after all.

STOP IT NOW.

It is too bad that the Kentucky Irish American has to reiterate that Louisville and Jefferson county authorities are too lax in regulating the speed of automobiles. Last Sunday a lady from Jefferson county was killed as a result of reckless automobile driving. Her life was worth more than all the automobiles in Christendom. It is certain that there is authority enough in the city and county to stop this reckless destruction of life.

The editor of the Providence Visitor pertinently remarks: "If Mr. Roosevelt's arraignment of the Y. M. C. A. for its disqualification of Catholics and Jews in the matter of voting and holding office did nothing else, it served a useful purpose in giving nation-wide publicity to the association's sectarianism. The Literary Digest, in recounting the agitation caused by Mr. Roosevelt's letter, says that it applied to the Y. M. C. A. for a statement, but 'they declined to make one'—on the principal, doubtless, that 'the less said the sooner mended.'"

Chief Lindsey is quoted as being hot after violators of the chauffeurs who are exceeding the speed limit in driving cars through the city. Reform, like charity, should begin at home. If Col. Lindsey wants to regulate fast-speeding autos let him begin by firing the first police chauffeur that exceeds the speed limit. There are none so reckless in the city as the police chauffeurs.

In many cities of the East this year the Women's Relief Corps and the Grand Army of the Republic Posts have presented American flags to the Catholic parochial schools. In all cases these flags have been accepted and swung to the breeze with appropriate ceremonies and patriotic addresses.

The entire community regrets the death of Judge Joseph M. Pryor, which occurred at his home in Robertsdale, Ala., on Tuesday. Until two years ago he was Circuit Judge in the Criminal Division of the Jefferson Circuit Court. Profound sympathy is extended to his wife and children.

There is a fight on for control of the Louisville Gas Company. Between John Stites and F. M. Sackett a lot of unnecessary gas is being wasted. Ultimately the consumers will have to pay and Louisville may lose its interest if control passes into outside hands.

Next Thursday will be Ascension day, a holy day of obligation. Every Catholic is bound to hear mass under pain of mortal sin.

Send flowers to the sick; masses are more appropriate remembrances for the dead.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Callahan and children, Jack, Robert and Edith, left Louisville for New York Thursday night and will sail for Europe early next week. They expect to be gone several months.

Miss Bertha Ritter and Philip Louis Raabs, popular young people of New Albany, were married at St. Mary's church on Thursday morning. The Rev. Father William Selbert performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ritter and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Raabs.

munion. The initiatory exercises will be held at the club house, Fourth street, near York, at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. A. J. Padgett, of Washington, Ind., will be in charge of the third degree work.

AT ST. LEO'S CHURCH.

In the afternoon the annual May procession will be held. It will be followed by the Rosary and a sermon by one of the Dominican Fathers from St. Louis Bertrand's. Benediction of the

SCARED.

The Haley, Beckham, McCreary
Chauffeur Seems Badly
Rattled.

Republican Leaders Will Get Cold Feet If O'Rear Is Nominated.

Able Men Suggested as Successors to Judge Shackelford Miller.

MORE RACES ARE TO BE RUN

Judge William Addams, of Cynthiana, is growing daily in strength in his race for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky. The chauffeurs of the Haley, Beckham, McCreary machine seem to be frightened and there promises to be a jolly smash-up before the joy ride ends. Hon. Joe C. S. Blackburn, former United States Senator and former Governor of the Panama Canal Zone, will deliver an address at Owensboro today. It is generally believed that Gov. Blackburn will pay his respects to the Haley, Beckham, McCreary machine in no uncertain terms. Gov. Blackburn is a Kentuckian to the manor born, and whatever he has to say will be heard with interest. His advice will be heeded all over the State. The revolt against machine methods is growing in Kentucky. The people do not want James McCreary or a man of his stamp for Governor. The nomination of Judge William Addams means much to the Democratic party, because his nomination for Governor seems to be its only salvation.

From present appearances the nomination of Judge Edward C. O'Rear might be conceded. Lieut. Gov. Cox and Hon. E. T. Franks, so the rumor says, are endeavoring to pool their interests against Judge O'Rear. If Judge O'Rear gets the nomination Senator Franks will have urgent business in Washington; Gov. Willson will take a trip somewhere and all the real Republican leaders will be busy doing anything besides supporting Judge O'Rear. That will leave him to the tender mercies of new Republicans like R. W. Knott, W. W. Davies and Robert W. Bingham.

The race for Lieutenant Governor promises to be closely contested. The candidates thus far announced are men of the highest integrity. All are making a clean and dignified campaign. Mr. McDermott's cause is being hurt by a few of his admirers, who are amateurs in politics. They love not wisely, but too well. Votes, not silent admiration, will make Mr. McDermott the presiding officer of the next State Senate. The people who are for him now are thoroughly in earnest, but they would stand as much chance in a political campaign as would an ice cream cone at a Sunday-school picnic. These same people become indignant if anyone dare venture an opinion in the matter.

But there is another side to it. A Chancellor is to be elected to fill out the term of Judge Shackelford Miller. Judge Robert W. Bingham is holding the office now. He will probably get the Republican nomination to succeed himself. Charles F. Taylor, Thomas H. Barker and E. A. Quarles are among the attorneys mentioned for the Democratic nomination. Any one of the three mentioned is capable of filling the place; any one of the three would add strength to the local ticket.

Then, too, Louisville is to elect Councilmen, Aldermen, Legislators and State Senators this year. There is a big chance for all good Democrats to elect friends to some office this fall.

SONS MOURN

Untimely Death of Their Fond and Devoted Mother.

Few matrons in Limerick were better known and more highly respected than Mrs. Mary Kelly McGrath, whose death occurred at her home, 619 West St. Catherine street, last Saturday morning. She had been ill for fifteen weeks and suffered from a complication of ailments. All her sufferings were borne patiently and while she was resigned to death she desired to live a while longer to care for and guard her beloved sons, Joseph and William Kelly.

Mrs. McGrath was born in Ireland forty-three years ago, but came to Louisville with her parents when quite a child. Her first husband was James Kelly, who was killed in a railroad wreck. Several years later she married John McGrath, a deputy jailer under John R. Pfanz. Mr. McGrath died several years ago. Mrs. McGrath is survived by her two sons, Joseph and William Kelly; her mother, Mrs. Bridget Ross; a brother, P. J. Ross, and two sisters, Mesdames Charles McGrath and John Greeley. The funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand church on Monday morning and was attended by many sorrowing friends.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Held Interesting Meeting and Hears Excellent Reports.

President Eugene McCarthy occupied the chair at a well attended meeting of Central Committee, C. K. of A., on Friday night. Messrs. P. J. Dowling and Thomas Feeley, delegates from the Cathedral branch, were given a warm welcome. President McCarthy announced the death of Joseph Tinker, for whom prayers were offered by the members. William M. Higgins reported in behalf of the Entertainment Committee that arrangements for an excursion to Jasper, Ind., were in progress; that hammers were being gotten out; a contract signed with the Southern railway and that many tickets had been disposed of already.

Gen. Michael Reichert reported two applications for membership in the Uniform Rank. Eugene Dempsey Kinney, Scholia, Reichert and McGinn reported that they had visited the different branches in their respective jurisdictions and gave a good account of all the branches. Messrs. Dowling, Reichert, McGinn, Feeley, Kinney and others took part in a general and interesting discussion for the good of the order.

CLEAN SPORT.

Lovers of Horse Flesh Are Enjoying Fine Racing Season.

The spring meeting of the New Louisville Jockey Club opened at Churchill Downs last Saturday under most favorable auspices. More than 40,000 persons witnessed the great Kentucky Derby. Quite a number of them were from distant cities in the East and West. They saw a great race and enjoyed it. Louisville is now considered the greatest racing center in the western world. The Paris mutual system of betting is gaining in favor and the sport is good and clean.

The feature today will be the Clark handicap, in which nearly all the Derby entries will appear. The principal events next week will be the Bashford Manor stakes on Tuesday, Bourbon handicap on Thursday and Louisville handicap next Saturday. The races are being well attended and General Manager Winn and his colleagues are being congratulated on the successes thus far attained.

SUCCESSFUL BAZAR.

The bazar for the benefit of St. Louis Bertrand church has been eminently successful and another large crowd is expected at Bertrand Hall this evening. The finale will occur on Monday afternoon and evening when there will be a big euchre. The afternoon games will be called at 3 o'clock and the evening games at 8 o'clock. Tickets of admission for the euchre will be only twenty-five cents.

NEW ALBANY PATRIARCH DEAD.

Patrick J. Doyle, one of the oldest residents of New Albany, died at the home of his son, Moses P. Doyle, 412 West Fifth street, in that city on Friday morning. The deceased was born in Ireland eighty-one years ago, but the greater part of his life was spent in New Albany. His wife died many years ago. Two sons, Moses P. and Luke Doyle, survive him. He had been an employee in the mills of the Ohio Falls Iron Company for forty years. Through thrift he had accumulated considerable property. Mr. Doyle used to be an expert performer on the fife, and for years his fife and drum corps was prominent in all Democratic rallies in New Albany. The deceased was a zealous member of Holy Trinity church, and his funeral mass was celebrated there on Monday. Many old friends and admirers attended the obsequies.

HANDSOME MEMORIAL.

The sanctuary of St. John's church has been additionally beautified by the erection of a crucifixion group. It is placed directly over the center of the main altar. In the center is the life-size figure of Christ on the cross. On either side of the cross stand the sorrowing Blessed Virgin and the beloved Apostle St. John. The group is the gift of Miss Maggie Burke and is a memorial to her sister, Mrs. Nellie Burke Hipp, and her brother-in-law, Meyer Hipp.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

30 Years Headache.
Watson, Ind., R. 3, Sept. 1, 1910.
I had been suffering from nervous headache for 30 years, since I was 15 years old. I had tried every medicine I could get to any relief without success. Have tried Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic and since taking it I can sleep and eat. I feel like a new man. I keep the Tonic always on hand, cannot praise it too highly. If anybody should doubt the genuineness of this letter, he can write to me.
Charles Erwin.

For several years was Mr. Jos. Byrne, Glendale, Ky., troubled with sleeplessness and nervousness, his memory and intellectual power were getting dull. He was benefited greatly through Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, as it lessens the pain and quiets the nerves and gives him healthy sleep. He feels "forever thankful to the Lord for the wonderful remedy."

LINCOLN'S NEW BISHOP.

AWFUL DEATH

Comes to a Popular Member of St. John's Parish.

Joseph Tinker, a well known young man of the East End, was so badly injured in an elevator accident last Friday that he died of his injuries a few hours later. Mr. Tinker was employed by the Atlas Elevator Company and was engaged in installing an elevator in a West End establishment. The cable he was holding became detached and as the heavy weight on the other end descended the unfortunate man was hurled against the ceiling and then dropped unconscious to the basement.

He was hurried to Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, but died without regaining consciousness. His skull was fractured and one leg and arm were broken. The remains were prepared for burial and removed to the family residence, 536 Caldwell street. The funeral took place from St. John's church on Monday morning.

The deceased, who was in his twenty-sixth year, is survived by his wife, who was Miss Rose Hemmerle. He was an active member of the Catholic Knights of America and was a delegate from St. John's Branch to the Central Committee. His death is mourned by all who knew him.

QUITE BUSY.

Members of Mackin Council Have Busy Month Ahead.

The meeting of Mackin Council on Monday night was particularly well attended, and President Samuel L. Robertson presided. Nineteen new members were obligated. They were to have been initiated on Sunday, but the initiation has been postponed to a later date. James Mullarkey and M. Carroll were reported still on the sick list. Rev. Father Richard Murphy, O. M. C., and Rev. Father Martin, O. M. C., delivered interesting addresses and encouraged the young men to keep up their good work.

The committee reported that the work of installing new shower baths was in progress. The Opera Committee reported that arrangements for the performance of "The Campus" next week were progressing rapidly, and that there was every indication of full houses at each performance next week. The committee arranging for the Niagara Falls excursion also reported progress. It is expected that the number who take advantage of Mackin's trip this year will be greater than last year. It was also announced that Mackin would give a sunset excursion on the Ohio river on July 29.

SCRAPPY BLUES

Under Danny Shay's Leadership Meet Colonels Tomorrow.

Del Howard's Colonels will play the last game of the present series with St. Paul this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon will try conclusions with Danny Shay's Kansas City team, who are now about the with Minneapolis for second place and close to first. It is reasonably expected that the Colonels will make a better home showing against the Western team than they did against Columbus and St. Paul, their slump being very costly, keeping them out of the first division, and only their good showing at Indianapolis puts them back in the good graces of the fans. The addition of Pfeister to the pitching staff should strengthen the team, and with about one more of the same caliber and another first class catcher to divide time with Johnny Hughes in the opinion of many the team could stand pat on the season.

ST. JOHN'S LARGE CLASS.

The Rev. Dr. George W. Schumann will administer first holy communion to a class of ninety children between the ages of eleven and thirteen years at the 7 o'clock mass tomorrow morning. This is one of the largest classes that ever received first holy communion at St. John's church. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock the children of the same class and a number of adults will receive the sacrament of confirmation from the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue. Later in the summer a class of smaller children will receive first holy communion at St. John's.

MARRIED TUESDAY.

The marriage of Miss Mayme Brian, the attractive and popular daughter of Warren Brian, and Stanzas T. Skees, a prominent resident of Maricourt, was solemnized Tuesday morning at St. Patrick's church at Stittout, the Rev. Father J. H. Henry performing the ceremony and celebrating the nuptial mass, which was attended by a large gathering of friends and well wishers of the worthy couple.

SEEKS BETTER HEALTH.

The Rev. Father C. P. Raffo, who has been in ill health and confined to a room at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital for a month, went to French Lick Springs Thursday afternoon for a period of rest and recuperation. He was accompanied by his brother, Sigismund M. Raffo.

OWES NO DEBT.

The magnificent St. Peter's church at Steubenville, Ohio, erected less than five years ago at a cost of $125,000, is entirely out of debt. The congregation numbers 350 families, and last year contributed the sum of $39,000. The Rev. T. A. Powers is the pastor.
